ENGLISH MAJOR REQUIREMENTS
EFFECTIVE FALL 2012

1. English 20A, 20B, and 20C (15 units). These courses are normally required of all English majors as a prerequisite to upper division courses.

2. English 102 (4 units), 102W (4 units). This course should normally be taken prior to or concurrently with the student’s first upper-division English course.

   Include at least one course (in bold) that deals with race and ethnicity (within requirements 3 and 4):

3. Four courses (16 units); one course from each of the following areas.

5. Six additional upper-division English courses (24 units). Only four units from either English 103 or any upper-division Creative Writing course will be accepted toward the fulfillment of this requirement. Four units of English 190 may be counted toward this requirement. Proposals for English 190 must be approved by a sponsoring faculty member and the department chair. If the student wishes to offer units from English 190 as part of the 24 units, a copy of an approved petition will be placed in the student’s file.

Total units in major: 63 units, at least 15 units and no more than 20 units of which are at the lower division level.
